This workshop draws on the lived experiences of victim-survivors to detail various forms of Cyber-located Sexual Violence (CLSV) and how it intersects with other sexual violence. We will consider current understandings of the nature and impact of CLSV in the Irish context and beyond. Once participants better understand the various forms of CLSV, we explore its prevalence and existing laws that protect people in Ireland. Finally, we will discuss findings from my ongoing research on CLSV concerning steps for supporting someone who discloses experiencing it.

Date: Friday the 29th November at 11 am.

Venue: Aula Maxima and Online
