Is course information available online? If yes, please provide link.	The list of courses available to visiting and exchange students may be found in the information handbooks at Inbound Study Abroad - University of Galway Only courses named in these handbooks may be selected – visiting students will not be permitted to register for any other courses. Please see the section for your chosen school and select your courses from the ones listed there.

Minimum and maximum number of modules/credits to be taken in each semester/term	University of Galway uses the ECTS (European Credit Transfer System). ECTS is based on the principle that 60 credits is a measure the workload of a full-time student during one academic year, and correspondingly, 30 credits for a semester. (The student workload of a full-time study programme in Europe amounts in most cases to around 1500-1800 hours per year and in those cases one credit stands for around 25 to 30 working hours.) The number of credits that should be taken by a visiting student is a matter for his/her home university to determine.
Restricted programs or courses (i.e. not open to exchange students)	See the section on course information above.
Are students allowed to take cross-faculty modules? If yes, are there any restrictions?	Students are expected to take courses within their chosen School; admission to courses provided by other Schools cannot be guaranteed. Selecting courses outside of the chosen school may result in timetable clashes at exam time.
Can students take modules of a different level, e.g. students at Year 2 taking Level 3 modules?	This would depend on an assessment by the relevant University of Galway academic department of the students' ability, academic background and exam results up to the time of application.
Are there any special language courses for incoming exchange students prior to the exchange program start?	No, but a five-week course of English language classes is provided for international students – this course usually starts soon after the beginning of each semester. The course is free of charge and consists of two 2-hour sessions per week (evenings).
When will the academic transcripts of exchange students be sent?	Usually within about 6 weeks of the end of exams.
